忘れかけた姿

最近の報道は人情の破綻を盛んに報道している。殺伐な世の中に成ったと言う実感がある。ふと窓の外に雀の親子の姿を見かけた。この様な情景が珍しくなったのは悲しい事ではないかと思う。自然界には我々の教訓が残っているのは幸いな事であると心が和んで来た。

Just about to be forgotten

When we read newspapers and reports in journals nowadays, we get often the impression as if human kind has come to break down moral and ethical bindings so normal for humane kind so far. One starts to think the world has become really rotten and wild. As I had been in thoughts and was involved in reading, I looked out through the window by chance to find these birds twitterung, probably parent and child sparrows. Even sparrows, in the past so numerous and abundant all over, are less to be observed nowadays. In the Nature we can read some of the lessons left for us to learn from. They are blessings of the Nature, and appreciating the birds there, I could feel my heart was getting warmer and milder.
